

DIY PLAN FOR HOLIDAY CLUBS: THE KINGDOM AND THE KING

This exciting and manageable DIY curriculum gives you a simple framework for structuring your VBS or Holiday Club around the theme of the kingdom and the king...and also offers plenty of inspiration for you to get creative to suit your ministry's capacity, resources, and demographics.

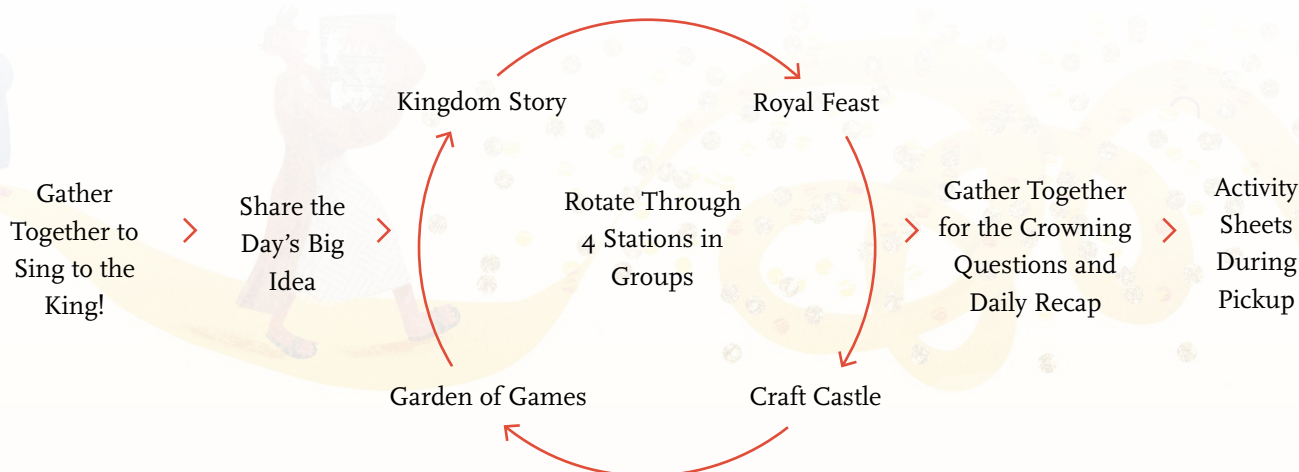

To follow this curriculum, you'll need a copy of The Kingdom and the King by Bob Hartman for the story read-aloud station. This storybook is also a wonderful source of inspiration for decorating.

Get a copy for each group—or as a gift for each family that participates—for less! SAVE 30% when you buy 10 from The Good Book Company.

- Why is it such good news?

DAILY RECAP

We recommend that you incorporate the following during the “crowning questions” large group recap each day.

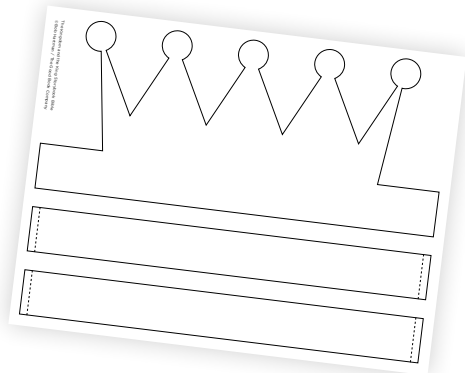

- Repeat the day’s big idea.
- Summarize the day’s kingdom story as a refresher, and add any additional context needed. (For example, during Day 3, share some quick examples of what Jesus’ life was like after he grew up).
- Invite kids to share their answers to the provided questions either with the small group they are seated in or with the large group.
- Pass a crown to whoever’s turn it is to answer the question.
- Ask for volunteers to recite the memory verse.

IDEAS FOR DECORATION

- Download and print a free full-size 5-poster pack. Each poster corresponds with a day’s theme.
- Go for a royal garden theme, like...
 - Flowers and greenery
 - Pillars or castles backdrops
 - Items like crowns and shields
 - Colours: gold plus deep greens, blues, purples, and reds
 - Free create-your-own-crown craft - perfect for coloring and decorating during downtime and dangling from the ceiling as decorations throughout the week before kids take them home

FINAL DAY PRESENTATION FOR PARENTS

If your week ends with an event parents are invited to attend, you might consider:

GOSPEL TABLEAUS:

- Divide kids into five groups to create “tableaus.”
- Each group poses in a re-enactment of a scene based on the 5 themes and stories they’ve learned that week.
- A leader can read a short summary of the related Bible story.
- The kids in the group can conclude by reciting the corresponding “big idea.”
- A child from each group could also be selected to recite the corresponding memory verse.

CONCERT AND RECITATION:

- Divide kids into five groups, and select one child from each group who is confident in public speaking.
- Begin with that child reciting the memory verse from the first day’s theme.
- The first group recites the first day’s theme together.
- Everyone sings a worship song.
- Repeat for each day’s theme, giving each group their turn to shine.
