Fannie Lou Hamer and her husband, "Pap," were poor, and life was hard. But they looked forward to Sundays, when they gathered at church with God's people in their tiny town in the Mississippi Delta.

Music and preaching, ushers and tambourines — oh, how they lived when Sunday came!

Inside their church, Mother Hamer sang with the little ones in Sunday school...

*This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine!
This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine!
This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine!
Let it shine, let it shine, let it shine!*

The children loved to sing with her.

So Mother Hamer sang on.
